This section shows how a disqualified NA participant in the budgetary unit affects the NA benefit amount.

This section is under construction and does not include every way an NA disqualified participant affects benefits.

Disqualified participants are not included when determining the budgetary unit size.

AZTECS Keying Procedures

Key expenses on EXNS next to the applicable participant based on the following:

- When the expense is paid by or billed to the disqualified participant, key the expense next to the disqualified participant. (See Example 1)
- When both the disqualified participant and a participant receiving benefits pay the expense, complete all of the following: (See Example 2)
 - Key the portion of the expense allocated to the disqualified participant next to the disqualified participant
 - Key the portion of the expense allocated to the participant receiving benefits next to the participant receiving benefits
- When the expense is billed to the disqualified participant and the participant receiving benefits pays the expense, do not prorate the expense. Key the expense next to the participant receiving benefits. (See Example 3) However, when the participant receiving benefits pays the entire expense with money provided by the disqualified participant, key the expense next to the disqualified participant. (See Example 4)
- When the PI in an NA and CA case is the disqualified participant and the only income is CA, do not prorate the expenses. Key the expenses next to the participant receiving benefits. (See Example 5)

Examples

- 1) Brenda has applied for NA for herself and her 10-month-old daughter, Cindy (both are keyed IN on SEPA). Cindy's father, Diego, also lives with Brenda and must be in the budgetary unit as a mandatory participant. However, Diego is disqualified because he is a nonqualified noncitizen (keyed DI).

The rent and utilities are billed to Brenda, but Diego actually pays the bills.

The rent and utilities are keyed next to Diego (the disqualified participant) on EXNS or EXPC. No shelter or utility expenses are keyed next to Brenda (the participant keyed IN on SEPA).
- 2) Brenda has applied for NA for herself and her 10-month-old daughter, Cindy (both are keyed IN on SEPA). Cindy's father, Diego, also lives with Brenda and must be in the budgetary unit as a mandatory participant. However, Diego is disqualified because he is a nonqualified noncitizen (keyed DI).

The $400 rent and $50 electricity bill are billed to Brenda. Brenda states that she and Diego share the shelter and utility bills equally.

The rent and electricity are split equally and keyed next to both Brenda and Diego on EXNS. On EXNS, key $200 next to Brenda using the RE Expense Code and $200 next to Diego using the RE Expense Code. Also, key $25 next to Brenda using the EL Expense Code and $25 next to Diego using the EL Expense Code.

- 3) Brenda has applied for NA for herself and her 10-month-old daughter, Cindy (both are keyed IN on SEPA). Cindy's father, Diego, also lives with Brenda and must be in the budgetary unit as a mandatory participant. However, Diego is disqualified because he is a nonqualified noncitizen (keyed DI).

The rent and utilities are billed to Diego, but Brenda has a letter from Diego stating that Brenda pays the rent and utilities herself.

The rent and utilities are keyed next to Brenda (keyed IN on SEPA) on EXNS. No shelter or utility expenses are keyed next to Diego (the disqualified participant).

- 4) Brenda has applied for NA for herself and her 10-month-old daughter, Cindy (both are keyed IN on SEPA). Cindy's father, Diego, also lives with Brenda and must be in the budgetary unit as a mandatory participant. However, Diego is disqualified because he is a nonqualified noncitizen (keyed DI).

The rent and utilities are billed to Diego, but Brenda has a letter from Diego stating that Brenda pays the rent and utilities herself.

Brenda has no income, so during investigation into how she pays her bills because her 'expenses exceed her income', Brenda identified that Diego gives her the money to pay the rent and utilities.

After documenting everything clearly, the rent and utilities are keyed next to Diego (the disqualified participant) on EXNS or EXPC. No shelter or utility expenses are keyed next to Brenda (the participant keyed IN on SEPA).

- 5) Diego is disqualified because he is a nonqualified noncitizen (the PI and keyed DI on SEPA). The only income the family is receiving at this time is CA for his 10-month-old daughter, Cindy (keyed IN on SEPA).

Diego and Cindy are living with Diego's friend, George. A letter from George confirms that Diego is billed and paying $50 towards the rent. A collateral contact call to George confirmed that none of the $50 goes towards utilities and Diego is not billed for utilities.

The rent is keyed next to Cindy on EXNS because she is the only one keyed IN on SEPA. No shelter or utility expenses are keyed next to Diego (the disqualified PI).
