

D Eligible Months for 31-PG and CA-PG

Benefits can be approved for the three months before the expected delivery date (EDD) month and the EDD month.

The participant may turn in an application for benefits in the fourth month before the month of the EDD. Complete the following when this occurs:

- Process through MADA and approve the pregnant participant for S.O.B.R.A. Woman, when applicable, for the application month.
- NEXT to APMA and change the benefit proration date to the first day of the following month for CA.
- Process the second month and authorize 31-PG and CA-PG (when eligible) on the appropriate determination screens.
- Send appropriate notices informing the PI of the determination.
- Document CADO with the reason CA benefits were prorated to the next month.

Complete the following when a pregnant participant turns in an application more than four months before the EDD:

- NEXT to AFED and deny the CA application, by keying DC in the DENIAL CLOSURE REASON field.

WARNING

When the pregnant woman is disabled she may be eligible for General Assistance (GA). (See GA Medical Disability for policy and procedures regarding determining eligibility for GA)

- Process the MA program through MADA for a determination in the S.O.B.R.A. (SW) category.
- Advise the participant when she may reapply for CA-PG.
- Send Denial and Approval Notices (when applicable) informing the PI of the determination.
- Document CADO with information to support the determination.
