

.01 Reinstatement During the Disqualification

At any time following notification of disqualification and during the disqualification period, the budgetary unit or the participant may attempt to reestablish eligibility. Document the case file\(g\).

The budgetary unit may reestablish eligibility when any of the following occurs:

- The noncompliant NA E&T LP moves out of the budgetary unit.
- The noncompliant NA E&T LP becomes exempt from E&T registration or participation. (See NA E&T Registration Exemption and NA E&T Participation Exemption)
- The budgetary unit applies for benefits with a new participant who is eligible to be the NA E&T LP. The disqualified participant continues to be ineligible for the balance of the disqualification period.
- The budgetary unit applies for benefits after moving to a geographically exempt E&T area.

The non-NA E&T LP may reestablish eligibility when the budgetary unit reports a change that makes the participant exempt from E&T registration or participation.

The disqualification follows a participant who moves to another budgetary unit. The disqualification only affects the disqualified participant when the disqualified participant does not become the NA E&T LP.

The participant may become the NA E&T LP of the new budgetary unit. When this occurs, the new budgetary unit is disqualified from receiving NA benefits for the remainder of the disqualification period.

In such cases, there is no overpayment when the disqualification period is not started in a timely manner.
