

A Untimely Reason Codes - FAA Caused Delays - All Programs (SC, EP)

Key ONE of the following codes for delays caused by FAA, for all programs, as appropriate:

- SC. FAA did not complete the first interview or attempt to complete a subsequent interview in accordance with FAA procedures. This includes, but is not limited to, the following:
The first interview was not completed at least ten days before the approval due date.
The participant requested a special interview time on the application and FAA did not complete the interview as requested.
There is no documentation in the case file establishing that the participant did not complete the interview.
- EP. FAA policy, action, or inaction caused the determination to be untimely. This includes, but is not limited to, the following situations:
Verification requested from the participant was provided by the approval due date and a determination was not made.
Verification requested from the participant was provided after the approval due date but within the ten days given. A determination was not made by the tenth day.
