

C Authorized Representatives – Revoking an Authorized Representative

REVISION 47
(01/01/19 – 12/31/19)

The consent for an authorized representative is in effect until the PI or the authorized representative revokes the consent. The consent must be reviewed at each renewal. This authorization expires when the application for assistance is withdrawn or denied, or when eligibility ends. The PI may revoke the authorization at any time.

When the PI wants to revoke the consent, it must be in writing. The Authorized Representative Removal (FAA-1494A) form is available in the Document Center. The form is not the only acceptable document.

However, the authorization continues during any time eligibility is being appealed in an administrative hearing.
